DETAILED ACTION

Election/Restrictions

1. Applicant's election traverse of claims 1-28 and 38-53 in the reply filed on June 6, 2005 is acknowledged.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 101

2. 35 U.S.C. 101 reads as follows:

Whoever invents or discovers any new and useful process, machine, manufacture, or composition of matter, or any new and useful improvement thereof, may obtain a patent therefor, subject to the conditions and requirements of this title.

The claimed invention is directed to non-statutory subject matter. Applicant claiming "symptoms of osteoarthritis in a wearer's knee" is considered non-statutory.

Double Patenting

3. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

4. Claim 1-28, 38-54 are provisionally rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 11-28, and 38 of copending Application No. 10/187,008 in view of Taylor US Patent 5,797,864.

Art Unit: 3743

5. Claim 1 fully anticipates limitations of claims 1 and 2; claims 2-28 respectively anticipates limitations of claims 2-28 of the pending application. Claim 38 anticipates limitations of claims 1 and 38 of claim 38, claim 39 reads on claim 2, claim 43 reads on claim 1, claims 44 and 45 reads on claim 4, claim 46 reads on claim 5, claim 47 reads on claim 6, claim 48 reads on claim 7, claim 49 reads on claim 8, claim 50 reads on claim 9, claim 51 reads on claim 12, claim 53 reads on claim 15, and claim 54 reads on claim 16 of the pending application.

6. Claims 42 and 43 are considered broadly recited under claim 2 of the pending application

7. As to claim 52, Taylor teaches a method of alleviating the effects of degeneration of the knee using a knee brace where force is applied laterally to the knee a force strap (fig.1, 28). As the force is applied, according to the requirement of the patient, to adjust loading on the knee compartment remote from the force strap. Since the strap diagonally wraps from the thigh to the calf area of the knee brace as depicted in fig.1, the force strap is considered inherently capable of transferring force from a wearer's thigh, calf and knee. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one of ordinary skills in the art at the time the invention was made to include a force strap in view of Taylor for the purposes of adjust loading on the knee and further transferring force from a wearer's thigh, calf and knee.

8. This provisional rejection might be overcome either by a showing under 37 CFR 1.132 that any invention disclosed but not claimed in the copending application was derived from the inventor of this application and is thus not the invention "by another," or by a showing of a date of invention for the instant application prior to the effective U.S. filing date of the copending application under 37 CFR 1.131. This rejection might also be overcome by showing that the copending application is disqualified under 35 U.S.C. 103(c) as prior art in a rejection under 35 U.S.C. 103(a). See MPEP § 706.02(l)(1) and § 706.02(l)(2).
